As a psychotherapist, I have found homeopathic remedies useful in helping to restore a sense of emotional and physical harmony. They are most effective when used in conjunction with psychotherapy for psychological conditions.

This homeopathic consultation is not to be used in place of a consultation with your usual medical practitioner. While homeopathic remedies are not considered medications by the FDA, I am not a licensed medical practitioner, and my recommending or prescribing homeopathic treatments should not replace standard treatment for a medical condition.

The initial interview will last between 1½ and 2 hours. A follow-up 4—6 weeks later is considered part of the homeopathic consultation. Further follow-ups should be scheduled as needed.

My fee for the initial interview is $150 an hour. Follow-ups and adjunctive consultation with other family members will be billed at a rate of $150 an hour prorated.

Please fill out medical history form as completely as possible and bring it with you. I look forward to working with you.
